Heavy equipment operator Ronnie Sanders, center, of Bozeman and laborer Damian Harris, in shadow, both with Sime Construction, work to remove excess materials near a new culvert on Fleshman Creek on Monday morning. Work continued on the Fleshman Creek Restoration Project on Monday with crews on site at the new C Street culvert near East Geyser Street. Park County began construction on the Fleshman Creek Restoration project in September. The $3 million project includes replacing the culverts at Main, H, C, E, F and Geyser streets.
