NORTHERN PACIFIC, BURLINGTON NORTHERN, AMTRAK AND OTHER RAILROADS RESEARCH COLLECTION

HISTORICAL NOTE

Warren McGee was born Sept. 7, 1914 to Howard and Mildred McGee. He was one of five children. Howard McGee worked as an engineer for the Northern Pacific Railway for 52 years in Livingston, Montana. Warren McGee graduated from Park County High School in 1933. After school he worked in Yellowstone National Park during the summers as a “hand shovel runner” and as a dishwasher during the off season. In 1936, he began his career with the railroad as a brakeman for Northern Pacific Railway in Livingston. When WWII broke out he was drafted into the Air Force where he served for 33 months from 1942-1945. Afterward, he resumed his career with the Northern Pacific. In 1946, he was promoted to conductor and married Bernice Lavold of Big Timber. They had one son Howard (1949-1971). Warren McGee worked as a conductor between Billings and Butte or Helena until he retired in Oct. 1975.

Warren McGee’s passion for trains began at an early age when he started taking photographs at age 30. His collection of train photographs numbers over 45,000. In addition, he took many photographs of events and sites throughout Park County. Warren was active in several railroad historical organizations including: the National Railroad Historical Society, Northern Pacific Railway Historical Association and the Milwaukee Road Historical Association. In addition, he was a member in several other railroad organizations and attended events such as the Last Spike Centennial, Golden Spike Celebration, and the American Freedom train. Whenever McGee traveled he would visit railroad and historical museums. On many of Warren and Bernice’s trips, they traveled by rail. All of these travels and stops he documented with numerous photographs, brochures, and souvenirs.

Another passion of Warren McGee’s was history. His passion for railroads, trains, and Montana overlapped. He spent years researching Montana history along with Park County and Livingston history. He saved his research and convinced others to donate their research and original archives to the Park County Museum now the Yellowstone Gateway Museum. In 2007 the Montana Historical Society featured an exhibit of McGee’s photographs, “On Track: The Railroad Photographs of Warren McGee.”

Warren was active in numerous civic activities and organizations including: chairing the Anti-Merger Committee; serving on the board of the Park County Museum, now the Yellowstone Gateway Museum; and rehabilitating the lagoon near Sacajawea Park in Livingston.

Bernice McGee passed on Feb. 15, 2001 and Warren McGee passed in 2018 at the age of 102.

NORTHERN PACIFIC, BURLINGTON NORTHERN, AMTRAK AND OTHER RAILROADS RESEARCH COLLECTION

SCOPE AND CONTENT NOTE

This collection documents Warren McGee's passion for the trains, railroad companies, and their history. McGee was a studious researcher, collector, and historian. His interest in trains began at an early age inspired by his father's career with the Northern Pacific Railway. During McGee's 40-year-career with the railroad company he kept all of the documents related to his job as a conductor with Northern Pacific Railway and then, the Burlington Northern Railroad. He was actively involved with the unions and related organizations. When the Northern Pacific was negotiating a merger with Burlington Northern he was active in the Livingston Anti-Merger Committee that ended in the U.S. Supreme Court. Although the merger passed McGee continued to work for the railroad until 1975.

After McGee's retirement he devoted his time to his research projects both on the railroad and Montana and more specifically, Park County's history. McGee researched numerous railroad companies, locomotives and railcars, historic events, and the events and politics that affected the railroad industry. In 1997, he joined the effort to expand the Amtrak passenger train service from Denver to Spokane. He was active in the Montana Wyoming Association of Railroad Passengers. Although the expansion failed, the collection documents the organization's strategies, meetings, and their passion for the passenger rail service.

Warren and Bernice McGee traveled by rail throughout the U.S. and into Canada. The collection includes their itineraries, and travel documents and brochures they collected from the numerous stops on the rail tours. McGee attended numerous railroad conferences, fairs, and events. He also visited many railroad museums throughout the U.S. McGee kept all of the printed material along with pins from these conferences, fairs, and events.

Warren McGee's passion for the railroad and everything connected with it was known by others who shared his passion. He encouraged friends and fellow railroad workers and enthusiasts to donate their material to the Yellowstone Gateway Museum. Their research donations are included in this collection. Their original archives from working as an employee with Northern Pacific, Burlington Northern, Amtrak or other railroad companies in the region are in the Northern Pacific and Burlington Northern Collection.

In this collection is the extensive research done by Jerry Maykuth on locomotives, railcars, and statistics related to the railroad industry.

The collection also contains the audio-visual material such as VHS tapes and cassette tapes that McGee created to document his rail travels and railroad conferences and lectures. The collection remains open for additional railroad research done by others.

In 2018 the bulk of this collection was donated by Warren McGee's estate. This donation included original documents generated by the Northern Pacific and Burlington Northern Railroad, McGee's research on railroads, and his active participation in numerous railroad associations and historical organizations. In addition the material received from McGee's estate included numerous boxes filled with his Montana research. Due to the volume, diversity and variety of material his donation was separated into three collections: The Northern Pacific, Burlington Northern, Amtrak and Other Railroads Collection; Northern Pacific, Burlington Northern, Amtrak and Other Railroads Research Collection; and the Montana History Research Collection. These three collections also include material donated by friends of McGee who shared his passion for the railroad and Montana history.

SERIES DESCRIPTION

SERIES 1 RESEARCH ON NORTHERN PACIFIC, BURLINGTON NORTHERN, AMTRAK 1888 (COPIES) -2012, BOX 1 –BOX 2 FF42

The series begins with McGee's research on Northern Pacific Railway, Burlington Northern and Amtrak. The series contains McGee's notes, research, clippings and copies of original railroad companies' documents. McGee also collected articles and research papers written by fellow railroad scholars and enthusiasts. The series is organized by the three railroad companies in chronological order.

SERIES 2 RESEARCH ON RAILROAD COMPANIES 1856 (COPIES) – 2012 BOX 2 FF43 –BOX 4 FF9

The series is organized alphabetically by railroad company name. The smaller railroads or companies that have little documentation are organized either under Montana, United States, Canada, and other countries. The series includes several files on Great Northern Railway and Union Pacific Railroad. The series continues with significant research compiled by Jerry Maykuth on Northern Pacific and Burlington Northern's diesel locomotives, steam locomotives, president's salaries, and directors. Maykuth's locomotive lists are quite detailed with the engine numbers and locations.

SERIES 3 RESEARCH ON RAILROAD SUBJECTS, RAIL STRIKES, UNIONS, ORGANIZATIONS 1883 (COPIES)-2009, BOX 4 FF10 – BOX 5

The research on railroads is organized by subject in alphabetical order. The series begins with accidents and covers topics such as employees, financial, legal, operations, and freight issues. Material in the series includes newspaper clippings, articles, newsletters, brochures, postcards, research papers, and McGee's notes.

SERIES 4 RESEARCH ON AMTRAK EXPANSION OF PASSENGER RAIL 1972-2014, BOX 6 – BOX 7 FF21

Warren McGee was passionate about the expansion of the passenger rail system. This series begins with studies on the commuter rail in the west. In addition, local organizations from Montana, Oregon, Washington, and Wyoming met to promote, study, and share information on the possibility of passenger rail expansion. The documents from these organizations include meeting minutes, newsletters, letters, and articles. The Montana, Wyoming Association of Railroad Passengers files comprise a significant portion of the series. The expansion of the passenger rail never occurred.

SERIES 5 HISTORICAL RAILROAD EVENTS AND ORGANIZATIONS 1948-2008
Box 7 FF22- Box 8 FF22A

Warren McGee was a member of numerous railroad historical organizations, which is documented in this series. The series consists of train show fliers, brochures on railroad history, and the First Northern Transcontinental Railroad Last Spike Centennial Ceremony event. The series also includes the Alliance to Save the South Line (et al) before the Interstate Commerce Commission, Petition for Revocation, for Hearing Finance Docket Number 31089 on Sept. 18, 1987.

SERIES 6 RAILROAD EXCURSIONS AND TOURS 1955-2009
Box 8 FF23 – Box 10

Warren McGee and his wife Bernice traveled throughout the U.S. on passenger rail tours. They also ventured into Canada. On these trips McGee collected rail tickets, menus, route maps, and brochures. When the train made stops he went to visitor centers to collect local and state brochures, maps, and travel literature. These types of material comprise the series.

SERIES 7 OVERSIZE DOCUMENTS, MAPS AND NEWSPAPER ARTICLES 1883 (copy) -2006

Posters, illustrations, and newspaper pages on trains and railroad events comprise the bulk of the series. The series also contains two scrapbooks filled with clippings on the Milwaukee Road, Burlington Northern, rail cars, and railroads.

SERIES 8 AUDIO VISUAL 1968-1995 AVBOX 1- AVBOX 3

Warren McGee recorded numerous lectures, meetings, and conferences that he attended. He filmed the rail excursions that he and Bernice traveled. Almost all of these events were filmed on VHS tapes. McGee filmed numerous events on one tape so several of the VHS tapes include his mother's birthday celebrations, local events in Livingston, and travels. The titles and numbers listed in the finding aid are listed exactly as McGee noted on the tapes. The audio-visual series contains cassette tapes from the conferences and lectures he attended. A couple of these cassette tapes are digitized.

SERIES 9 OBJECTS 1975-1987

Objects contained in this series include American Freedom train license plate, pins from railroad events and a small wooden train engine and a metal steam engine that contains a lighter.

SERIES 10 PHOTOGRAPHS 1977, 1984

The series contains eight folders of photographs from McGee's railroad excursions in the U.S. McGee took photographs while on the train of scenic views, the interior of train cars, and at stops along the excursion. McGee wrote handwritten notes on many of the photos, including the location and sometimes a brief description of the image.
